

Notified Research Entities under the Research Analysts Regulations, 2015

Many investors who rely on research reports may not know, among other things, that favorable research coverage could be used to market the securities and vice versa. Realizing this, the Securities and Exchange Commission of Pakistan (SECP) framed and notified a comprehensive regulatory framework for the research entities and research analysts that is called “Research Analyst Regulations, 2015” (RAR 2015).

Through this initiative, the SECP aims to regulate the research entities and research analysts. The SECP has commenced the process of analyzing the compliance status level of the notified research entities with respect to the provisions of RAR 2015. Furthermore, these notified research entities have been assigned research entities notification numbers, which they are required to mention on all their research reports, henceforth. Moreover, they have also been advised to furnish all their research reports to the SECP regularly.

However, the SECP takes no responsibility for any publication or statement made in these research reports. The views expressed in the research reports are entirely those of the research entities / research analysts and do not reflect the views of the SECP or the staff of the SECP in any way.
