SECP holds seminar on corporatization and e-Services

KARACHI, February 2: The Securities and Exchange Commission of Pakistan (SECP) held a seminar on corporatization and e-Services project of the SECP in Karachi in collaboration with Management Association of Pakistan.

This seminar was organized as part of the SECP initiative to encourage corporatization and create awareness about the eServices project. After e-Services launch in September 2008, such seminars have already been held in various cities of the country including Karachi, Lahore, Islamabad, Faisalabad, Multan, Rawalpindi and Sialkot.

This seminar was attended by participants from various companies as well as corporate consultants.

Mr Ibtesam Moatisim Khan, Director, Management Information System, delivered a presentation on the “e-Services Project of SECP” and also provided solutions to the difficulties faced by the users of eServices. The significance of eServices as an easy and cost-effective mode of filing of documents with SECP and new developments in e-Services were shared.

Mr. Sidney Custodio Pereira, in charge, CRO Karachi, apprised the participants of “corporatization and the role of SECP”.

The participants greatly appreciated the questions and answers session. They complimented the SECP on successful implementation of e-Services.

Famous cricket commentator, Mr Chishty Mujahid, now the Executive Director, MAP, expressed his gratitude to the SECP saying that MAP would continue to arrange such informative and interactive sessions with the SECP.
