SECP extends filing date of Form A and annual accounts up to December 2

ISLAMABAD, November 28: The Securities and Exchange Commission of Pakistan (SECP) has extended the filing date of Form A and annual audited accounts up to Tuesday, December 2.

The decision has been made in order to facilitate companies, which held their annual general meetings on October 30 and 31. The Last filing dates for these companies were falling on 29 and 30 November respectively. Considering the fact that last filing dates are falling on a weekend, they have been extended up to Tuesday, December 2.

It is pertinent to mention here that all other than listed companies are required to file Form A, within 30 days of holding of their AGMs, while the listed companies are required to file Form A, within 45 days.
